

MIXED — Turing, canard, and what the theorem does not decide

Brusselator ($A = 1$): neutral-curve gap above $B = 1$

SCHEMATIC — canard organization and high winding are distinct van der Pol ($\varepsilon = 1$): finite-wave neutral gap below $a = 1$

Application chain: atlas reaches stationary-profile stage

- 1 analytic theorem
existence and organization
- ↓
- 2 computed stationary profile
shape, scaling, period
- ↓
- 3 temporal spectrum/simulation selection and stability
- ↓
- 4 experiment
calibration and observation